Diploma in Applied Advanced Manufacturing Systems

NEW DIPLOMA COURSE

We are excited to introduce our new diploma course, known as Diploma in Applied Advanced Manufacturing Systems or DAAMS for short.

This diploma aims to build proficiency in technology and shape the modern industry.

The curriculum is designed around real-world demand by equipping trainees with practical skills. Some of the key highlights in this course consists of 3D design and mastering IIoT via No-Code tools.

These will help trainees to lead digital transformation and optimise operations.

In year 2027, we also have planned for foreign students to take up this course!

CHARITY MONTH

The month of December is the season of giving! We will donate 15% of our course fees earned during the month to Singapore Heart Foundation (SHF). Terms and Conditions apply.

This is a great opportunity to enroll in our courses to contribute towards a good cause, while strengthening your workforce capabilities! :)

Furthermore, we are also collaborating with partners to organize FREE workshops for members.

Lastly, we are also giving back to the environment! During the month of December, we are organizing a day to have an environmental cleanup at Bishan-Ang Mo Kio Park to help with environmental goals.

CORPORATE/TAILORED TRAINING

ELITC conducts courses to upgrade workers in the electronics industry and its supporting manufacturing companies through industry-based training courses.

Most courses can be delivered on an in-company basis to allow a greater number of staff to be trained and at the same time to ensure cost effectiveness for organisations. In addition, ELITC is able to develop customised work training packages to meet in-house training needs of companies.
